

VERDICTS & SETTLEMENTS

dbr

A20 dailybusinessreview.com

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2010

For more detailed reports from Verdict Search, to request research or to submit a case for publication, go to www.VerdictSearch.com or call (800) 832-1900.

MOTOR VEHICLE

PALM BEACH CIRCUIT COURT

Woman recovers $741,000 for injuries in wreck

A woman who claimed two cervical herniations in a rear-end collision was awarded $741,801.

In 2006, Amanda Spiro, then 29, was struck by Jac Marden, who admitted liability. Spiro underwent a two-level cervical fusion. Her neurosurgery expert testified her injuries were caused by the accident.

Defense experts testified Spiro did not sustain a permanent injury in the crash, but the jury disagreed.

Case: Spiro v. Marden

Case No.: 50 2007 CA 022622

BROWARD CIRCUIT COURT

Jury awards driver struck by flying bed liner

A driver who was struck by a truck bed liner that flew out of a pickup was awarded $250,000.

Ned Hoffman Auto Transport, Royal's boss struck his steering column, and he underwent arthroscopic surgery two years after the accident.

The company claimed the owner of the truck was the responsible party.

Case: Royal v. Ned Hoffman Auto Transport

Case No.: 50 2007 CA 022

Plaintiff lawyers: Garrett J. Bonds, Bonds

Defense lawyers: Thomas J. Crowder, Law

Offices, Fort Lauderdale

MOTOR VEHICLE

PALM BEACH CIRCUIT COURT

Woman recovers $741,000 for injuries in wreck

A woman who claimed two cervical herniations in a rear-end collision was awarded $741,801.

In 2006, Amanda Spiro, then 29, was struck by Jac Marden, who admitted liability. Spiro underwent a two-level cervical fusion. Her neurosurgery expert testified her injuries were caused by the accident.

Defense experts testified Spiro did not sustain a permanent injury in the crash, but the jury disagreed.

Case: Spiro v. Marden

Case No.: 50 2007 CA 022622

Plaintiff lawyers: Carlos A. Bodden and Patrick W. Lawlor

Defense lawyers: Edward W. Malavenda and Nick Ryan, Law Office of Julie Taylor & Associates, Fort Lauderdale